

Miguel Noguero, MCC, EMCCC

Executive & Team Leadership Coach
Organizational and Leadership Development

LIVING AS A
LEADER[®]

Miguel Noguero brings more than 30 years of global leadership experience, including senior executive roles in complex, multinational business environments. He has led large, multicultural organizations in the technology sector and now partners with senior leaders and their teams across industries to clarify vision, strengthen leadership capability, and lead meaningful organizational change.

As an ICF Master Certified Coach (MCC) and organizational development consultant, Miguel works with executives worldwide to build high-performance cultures and lead transformation with clarity and impact. His coaching is grounded in deep business experience and advanced training in organizational psychology, allowing him to create reflective, challenging, and supportive coaching partnerships that drive sustainable growth.

Miguel's leadership philosophy is rooted in systems thinking, cultural awareness, and accountability. Having lived and worked across regions and cultures, he brings a global perspective and a strong appreciation for the human side of leadership. He is passionate about helping leaders navigate complexity, build resilient organizations, and foster cultures where people and performance thrive.
