

Cindy Jansen is a strategic business partner and creative HR professional with 18+ years of proven leadership and experience in talent acquisition, performance management and employee relations coaching entry level to the C- suite. Cindy spent her career in human resources leveraging the inherent talent of employees while directly impacting bottom line results. She has worked in the non-profit and profit space.

Cindy has a passion and internal desire to support leaders across all disciplines and industries to build leadership awareness, which is why she decided to join the Living As A Leader team in 2017. She focuses on working in-house with leaders to provide workshop facilitation, coaching and consulting services.

Cindy is a graduate of our inaugural Train-the-Trainer certification in 2016.

Cindy holds a Bachelor of Arts from UW- Whitewater and a Masters of Business Administration from Cardinal Stritch University.

“Over time, I have come to this simple definition of leadership: Leadership is getting results in a way that inspires trust.”- Stephen M.R. Covey

You can reach Cindy Jansen at cjansen@livingasaleader.com.